Jury links 4 to assessment bribery

Bribe money—obtained in exchange for reducing real estate valuations—was utilized for a fund to defend Supervisor of Assessments James W. Barton against his 1982 indictments, Madison County grand jurors charged Friday.

Barton and three others—including Fred E. Finck of the assessment Board of Review—were named as the jury returned a total of 18 counts in an indictment late Friday afternoon.

THE YEAR-LONG investigation, as had been rumored, was aided by the recording of conversations with a hidden tape recorder. The recorded talks dealt with auto agency assessments.

The bribery conspiracy is alleged to have lasted from July 1, 1983, to Sept. 1, 1984. It is alleged that assessment changes were made, not on merit, but in response to monetary contributions.

Although there have been no convictions and no admissions of guilt, indications are growing that Barton, 61, county supervisor of assessments for the past 12 years, will not be appointed to a fourth four-year term this fall.

HE WAS ASSESSOR of Granite City Township from 1965 to 1972, accepting the appointive county post mainly because of the belief at that time that it would become an elective office.

The Sept. 21 defendants are:

—Barton, nine counts of official misconduct, three counts of bribery, one count of conspiracy to commit bribery and one count of conspiracy to commit official misconduct.

Finck, 53, of Godfrey, one count each of obstruction of justice, official misconduct, conspiracy to commit official misconduct and conspiracy to commit bribery.

MERLE C. BASSETT, an Alton attorney, one count each of perjury, bribery, conspiracy to commit bribery and conspiracy to commit official misconduct. He formerly was Barton's lawyer.

—Bassett's son, Gerald, a law student and a former deputy in Barton's office, three counts of bribery and one count each of official misconduct, conspiracy to commit bribery and conspiracy to commit official misconduct.

Robert Carter, an Alton attorney, is said to have been "wired for sound" by Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation agents when he gave a $500 check in December 1983 to Gerald Bassett.

Carter was said to be acting as an attorney for William Roberts, owner of the Roberts Ford agency in Alton.

THE ASSESSMENT of Roberts' home in Godfrey was later reduced twice by a total of $10,000 but Roberts was not seeking personal gain; he was part of the effort to obtain evidence, it was learned.

Jurors alleged that Finck and the Bassetts set up a defense fund in August 1983 to help Barton finance his defense in the 1982 case.

Gifts to the fund are said to have been offered in return for the lowering of values on residential and business property.

THE INDICTMENT relates that $700 was given in October 1983 by Dave Croft, owner of the Croft Chrysler-Plymouth agency in Collinsville. It contends this was related to the car dealership's 1983 valuation for taxes payable in 1984.

Finck is accused of instructing an aide to delete from tax records a change in the Croft agency's assessment, potentially impeding prosecution of Barton.

It is alleged that the 1982 value of the Ham Chevrolet agency in Wood

Renovation of 2 schools for housing sparks debate

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Madison County Board's plan for converting its former junior high school into housing is progressing, but a similar plan for the former Dunbar School has encountered a temporary delay.

During the school board's regular meeting Thursday night, Madison County Housing Authority Executive Director Bert Hampton spoke on an application the authority has submitted to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for funds to renovate the old Madison Junior High at Third Street and Alton Avenue.

THE BOARD WANTED a second request submitted to renovate the old Dunbar building at W. 3rd and Jackson streets. That request, which the board designated its priority project, was never submitted to HUD by Madison County Housing officials. Hampton said the problem with submitting the Dunbar request was a matter of timing. "The opportunity to pursue this whole thing came rather suddenly," he stressed.

"We hired two architectural firms and they began working.

"But the Dunbar building was considerably more complex," he explained, noting that plans and specifications were not ready by HUD's deadline for 1984 grant applications.

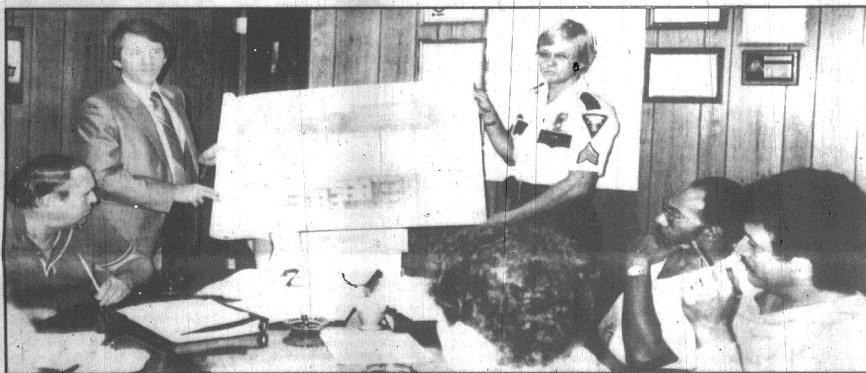

AN APPLICATION for the old junior high was submitted in August. The proposed project, with an estimated cost of $1.7 million, would provide low-income elderly persons' housing and median-income housing.

About 30 percent of the 38 units would be designated for low-income elderly, with a maximum monthly rent of $180. The remaining 70 percent of the housing would be available to median-income individuals or families for a maximum rent of $260.

The 620-square-foot dwelling units would have central air-conditioning and carpeting, and utilities would be included in the rent. If it is approved, HUD would provide 40 to 50 percent of the project cost, Hampton said.

DUNBAR PLANS ARE NOW completed, Hampton said, although it is too late to submit the proposal to HUD. (Continued on Page 6)

Governor urges efficiency in schools

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Governor James R. Thompson, addressing the annual convention of the Illinois Press Association in Decatur, Ill., Saturday morning, said he is aware of the financial plight of the Granite City public schools, but said he cannot see how the state can help further at this time.

"If the people in Illinois want the best education system they can have, by golly, they are going to have to pay for it," Thompson said in response to a question from the Press-Record.

IF THE SCHOOLS, in a combined effort by teachers, administrators and parents, can convince the general public that the schools should take an even larger share of the tax pie than they currently take, the governor said, he would support increased funding levels for schools. "I'd be willing to support significantly more for education, if, if everybody involved in the process will trade off. If all the individuals involved will help run them (the schools) more efficiently, I think the taxpayers could be persuaded to pay more, if we could get things in line.

"If the people in Illinois want the best education system they can have, by golly, they are going to have to pay for it."

"We need parents interested in the schooling of their kids. It has been demonstrated worldwide, if parents play a bigger role, students will get a better education. Taxes cannot do that," he told editors and publishers at the breakfast.

HE NOTED that in 1982, the state's financial situation was such that he found it necessary to cut educational spending below the previous year's level for the first time. "It was a very painful thing for me to do as governor, but we survived."

"I think we ought to have many more dollars in elementary and secondary education. Clearly, we need to do something about teachers' salaries because we are not getting the best quality of teachers out of our colleges. We need to attract better teachers," he said.

He also said that the schools "need to do something" about discipline and better curriculum in the schools.

NOTING THAT approximately 70 percent of the population does not have children in the schools, additional state taxes would be politically "hard to sell" in the legislature, particularly among the senators and representatives from upstate districts, whose constituents have voted for higher property taxes so they now have good schools and no financial difficulties.

The state lottery is not the full answer for educational funding, the governor said. "It (the lottery) is going great guns and will return to the taxpayers 10 times the amount it returned when I became governor. Annual receipts (when the lottery started) were in the high $30 millions, $37 or $38 million (a year). This year, we estimate the lottery will return $480 million."

The lottery is well run. It now is entertainment rather than a desperation scheme for the economically distressed," he said.

HOWEVER, he warned, even if the entire $480 million from the lottery was devoted to education, "it still wouldn't make any difference to education," the governor said.

This year, a record year, more than $2 billion was spent on elementary and secondary education. "If every penny from the lottery was put into the schools, the taxpayers would still have to put in another billion and a half dollars," and other valuable programs, such as mental health and developmental disabilities programs would have to go without funding, he said.

"I am grateful for the lottery, but we have to be careful not to use it for year-to-year expenses, so if it stops becoming entertainment and it fails, we won't have to make it up with other taxes or other ways," he stated.

THE GOVERNOR'S speech followed a brief address to the press association by U.S. Representative Paul Simon, Democratic candidate for the U.S. senator's post currently held by Charles Percy.

Simon said he will continue his fight for educational funding. "We shape our future through education," Simon said.

He noted that the decline in funding for education is due, in part, to a general economic decline in the region and the nation. "Economic decline is not an act of God, it is a human economic decision and it can be changed," he stated.

Raises budgeted by Madison schools

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

With no public comment and no discussion among board members, the Madison School Board on Thursday night approved its 1984-85 final budget, totaling $6,052,700.

A public hearing was conducted prior to the board's regular meeting. No members of the audience spoke and the board unanimously passed the budget during the meeting. It contains six-percent raises for all school personnel.

THE $6 MILLION budget is a three percent increase over last year's budget of $5,860,850. Actual expenditures in 1983-84 were $4,765,753. Madison School Superintendent John Palchick said.

The board approved a tentative budget during an Aug. 20 meeting, and there were no changes in that budget, which was adopted as the official budget Thursday for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

A total of $4,966,150 is budgeted for the education fund, compared to last year's education fund appropriation of $4,755,150. Total, the school district actually spent $4,094,569.

The new budget allots $203,500 for transportation, $1,500 more than budgeted last year, although only $144,901 was actually spent.

ANOTHER $125,000 is earmarked for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, up from $120,450 in the previous budget, with $111,078 actually spent last year.

Budgeted for the building fund is $679,000 for 1984-85, while $642,000 was appropriated last year and $274,199 was spent.

Bond and interest expenditures in 1984-85 are projected at $138,250, including $80,000 to retire bonds and $58,250 to meet interest. Last year's appropriation was $141,250 and the expenditure was $141,006.

APPROPRIATIONS in the education fund include $1,013,000 for elementary instruction, $508,000 for middle school instruction and $762,500 for high school instruction, up from the year-ago allocations of $1,003,500, $494,000 and $736,500.

The 1984-85 education fund appropriations also include $115,400 for board expenses, Supt. Palchick said such costs include travel, equipment, board office supplies, board secretary salaries, audits, legal ser-

2 Lotto winners

It looks like Granite City's turn to be lucky!
Officials at Sullins Package Liquor, 2260 Washington Ave., said this morning that their computer indicates they sold not one, but two, winning tickets to share in the $8 million prize from Saturday evening's Lotto drawing.

THE WINNERS have not yet identified themselves. Announcement of the number of winners, their identification and the amount each will receive is expected later today.

The two local winners got all six numbers—3, 4, 20, 25, 34 and 43—correct, the computer shows.

UW CAMPAIGN TAKES OFF. Drew and Joni Karandjoff, Group A co-chairpersons, announce their division's efforts at the first of four United Way report luncheons Friday. They announced a total of $12,150 pledged, or 15 percent of the $79,750 goal for the business, commercial and private donors division. The campaign is at 21 percent of the $630,000 goal set earlier this year. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

No action taken on entitlement program

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Although city council members took no action on a program that could give Granite City more Community Development monies, Alderman Sharon Perjak says she is still in favor of instituting such a plan.

The program, known as the entitlement city program, would allow the city to apply for federal monies that are distributed directly through the state. According to Mrs. Perjak, Granite City would have received $787,000 this year, had it been an entitlement city. The city instead received $290,000 from the Madison County Community Development program.

Joe Parente, coordinator of the Madison County program, said last week that Granite City could only gain from becoming an entitlement city, although that change could jeopardize the whole county program.

According to Parente, Congress passed an amendment last year which would allow the county municipalities of Granite City and Alton to qualify as entitlement cities. In the past, cities had to have a population of 30,000 to qualify. Parente said that counties are required to have 200,000 population to qualify for the monies. Madison County has a population of 247,000.

He said if Granite City pulled out of the county program, the county would still have a high enough population to continue, but if both Granite City and Alton pulled out, the program would be phased out after a three-year period.

Parente said that this would mean smaller communities, such as Madison and Venice, would go into a state pool for the monies and could get lower funding because of the intense competition statewide.

Parente said that the one drawback to the entitlement program for Granite City would be that it would require the city to hire administrators and accountants to run the Community Development program. He said the city would probably spend 15 to 20 percent of its grant for administration expenses.

He said that, although Granite City only received $290,000 for Community Development, the city did benefit from other county funds the last year. Parente said the county has monies available for economic development and housing rehabilitation that are placed in a pool.

He said last year, Granite City received $100,000 for economic development (to help fund Heidman Steel) and $40,000 for housing rehabilitation.

Parente said he has sent pertinent information on the program to Mayor Paul Schuler, but has not received word from the mayor as to which program the city will select next year.

PROWLING IS ALLEGED

Jerry A. Thompson, 29, of 2015 Washington Ave., was charged with prowling this month, when allegedly found in the yard of a residence in the 2700 block of Myrtle Avenue, where he was allegedly trying to look through an open window. He was released on notice to appear for a hearing.

Superintendent search by state panel scheduled

A search for a new Granite City superintendent of schools will be conducted by the Illinois Association of School Boards.

Frank L. Kraus is retiring June 30, 1985, and a successor is to be chosen before that time, effective July 1. Some overlap will be sought so that the next superintendent can become familiar with the duties here.

On Supt. Kraus' recommendation, the Board of Education decided last week to utilize the IASB search program at a cost not to exceed $3,500.

Conferring with the board was Richard Wisner of the IASB staff.

Perhaps 100 candidates will be obtained through state and national notifications. A committee composed of an outside superintendent and an outside board member will screen their qualifications and backgrounds and recommend a final number desired by the board, typically five to seven applicants.

Actual selection will be by the school board, based on references and interviews with the finalists. It is hoped to make a choice during the winter.

Although local candidates have not been ruled out, the IASB does not include them in the basic competitive evaluation because it feels their home district knows them better than the committee could in the time provided for its activities, Wisner said.

Free flu shots for employees

Granite City aldermen approved a plan last week that will allow all city employees to receive free flu shots.

According to Safety Director Dick Portell, the shots will be administered on Friday, Sept. 28. City officials may also receive the shots, if they pay a fee.

The shots will cost the city $7 per employee. The nurse's fee for the program is $56 an hour.

Portell said the flu shots also were administered last year, which saved the city money by fewer employees calling in sick. "Several people said they got a slight touch of the flu, but they were able to work," he said. "They probably would have really been down if not for the shots."

The shots will be given by the Granite City Sewing Center, which will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday.

Board of Review to begin full-time duties

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Madison County Board last week approved a resolution establishing full-time responsibilities for the county's Board of Review members.

According to the resolution, Board of Review Chairman Robert Harris of Granite City will receive a salary of $23,700 annually for his duties, while members Shirley Voegelé of Granite City and Fred Fincke of Godfrey will receive $22,500 annually.

UPON ITS passage, the resolution went into effect through fiscal year 1985. County Board Member William Little of Alton commented that the resolution covers only one year and, after that, "We'll see how it goes."

In addition to the salaries, the Board of Review members will receive the same benefits as county department heads.

Madison County Board members unanimously approved the resolution in hopes of speeding up the sluggish property tax cycle, as evidenced this year by a delay of about four months in sending out property tax bills.

BEFORE THE adoption of the resolution, Board of Review members served on a part-time basis and were paid $65 a day, or about $11,000 a year, for their services.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City said the Board of Review now may be able to handle more responsibilities. "Hopefully, we will get done with the (property tax) hearings sooner, and we can get on with other duties," which Hagnauer said the board was too busy to perform in the past.

"If we can get the tax bills out, the taxing districts are going to benefit," he continued. "I think this is worth a try for the year."

BOARD MEMBER Homer Henke of Moro responded to questioning about the salaries to be paid Board of Review members. "Personally, I think it's a low salary for the responsibilities on these people and the qualifications these people must have. They sacrifice a lot because they give up their jobs to do this. I think we're getting a real bargain."

In other business, Board Member Rudolph Papa of Wood River reported that since the tax bills went out to county property owners recently, the county already has received over a million dollars in property tax payments. He said checks for proportionate shares of the revenues received so far were mailed Friday to all taxing districts in the county.

Other resolutions adopted by the County Board Wednesday included a resolution requesting that the Illinois General Assembly support legislation eliminating requirements that Social Security and retirement benefits be taxed on the elderly.

THE FEDERAL Tax Code has been changed, resulting in the taxation of some retirement benefits for elderly people with relatively high incomes. The change in federal tax figures also affects state tax figures.

The resolution asks that Governor James R. Thompson modify the bill to enable older taxpayers to subtract retirement benefits from their adjusted gross income before figuring their state income taxes.

Another approved resolution encourages the governor to sign legislation authorizing an increase in fees for the processing of court pleadings and the recording of deeds and records in both the Circuit Clerk's and Recorder of Deeds' offices. The increase is earmarked to develop automated record-keeping systems and micro-filing systems. Madison County officials say such additional financial assistance would be beneficial in helping them to obtain these goals.

Aldermen request sewer meeting

Granite City aldermen approved a motion last week which they hope will help settle a contract dispute between themselves and the Madison County Board's Special Sewer Committee, for sewage treatment.

Aldermen requested that Morris Miles, Madison County Board's special sewer committee chairman, and Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zek" Smith be present at a city council meeting to discuss terms of the treatment contract.

Mayor Paul Schuler told aldermen that the city and the sewer board have reached an impasse in their negotiations.

Two-month grace period for delinquent taxes

Governor James R. Thompson has signed tax amnesty legislation giving taxpayers one last chance to step forward and pay their state tax debts before stiffer tax penalties take effect.

"This legislation provides a two-month period for persons to clean their state if they have violated state tax laws or failed to pay long overdue bills," the governor said.

"In return, those individuals and businesses who voluntarily admit their past tax violations and pay those back taxes during the amnesty period will save penalty charges plus one-half of the interest which otherwise would have been due," he said.

"In addition, they will receive amnesty from criminal prosecution for any revenue tax laws they may have violated."

On the other hand, those who don't step forward and admit substantially greater penalties in the future," the governor said.

The legislation Senate Bill 1420 designated Oct. 1 through Nov. 30, 1984 for Tax Amnesty in Illinois. This amnesty applies to any person or business who owes taxes to the Illinois Department of Revenue for tax periods before July 1, 1983.

All state taxes collected by the Illinois Department of Revenue are affected, including the personal and corporate income taxes, sales taxes, motor fuel taxes, liquor taxes, cigarette taxes, hotel-motel taxes, bingo taxes and other miscellaneous taxes. It doesn't include taxes collected by other Illinois agencies, such as the Insurance Tax, Corporate Franchise Tax, or Unemployment Taxes.

Thompson pointed out that along with the promise of amnesty for past tax transgressions, the bill contains increased penalties for any future tax violations. All civil penalties will be increased by one-half. For instance, failure to file an Illinois income tax return will become a felony, punishable by up to five years in prison and fines of up to $10,000. The increased penalties are effective Dec. 1, 1984.

The governor's signing of the amnesty legislation follows on the heels of stepped up tax enforcement measures signed into law last week, which give the Illinois Department of Revenue a broad range of new collection tools. Seizure of property from delinquent taxpayers will be speeded up. Names of delinquent taxpayers will be turned over to the state's attorney general for prosecution. If doesn't include taxes collected by other Illinois agencies, such as the Insurance Tax, Corporate Franchise Tax, or Unemployment Taxes.

In addition, the revenue department will begin to crack down on itinerant merchants. Illinois Tax Amnesty is a one time only offer to persons who have not paid their tax bills, have not filed the required Illinois tax returns or are guilty of other forms of tax evasion, such as underreporting income or overreporting deductions.

Persons currently under criminal investigation for state tax violations are not eligible for amnesty. In addition, those with civil cases pending in state courts are ineligible unless those cases are resolved before amnesty ends. However, any one with an appeal pending with the Department of Revenue is eligible, providing they file an amnesty application and pay the basic tax and one-half of the applicable interest.

To obtain amnesty, persons or businesses will be expected to file an Application of Amnesty, complete any necessary tax returns, and pay the amount of taxes due, plus one-half of the interest. All forms and payment must be sent to the Department of Revenue before Nov. 30, 1984.

Forms and instructions will be available by Oct. 1. In addition, a special toll-free number will be announced for information and assistance with amnesty.

New law lets MESD sell property

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Metro-East Sanitary District Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse informed the district board Thursday that Illinois Governor James Thompson has signed legislation allowing the district to sell property.

Greathouse explained that the law the district had been operating under prohibited the district from selling any of its property.

Now that the district is allowed to sell unneeded property, it will no longer have to maintain that property, and the land can be sold to private individuals; such a sale would put the property on the tax rolls to generate additional revenues for taxing bodies such as the district, he said.

In addition, Greathouse noted, the law allows a non-engineer to act as executive director of the board. Greathouse is not a registered engineer, but the board does contract with consulting engineers.

Greathouse, who testified before the legislature during its consideration of the bill, said the MESD does have several hundred acres it would like to sell, and district officials are "getting caught up" on the titles to the property as a first step in selling it.

In other business Thursday, Greathouse reported that U.S. Environmental Protection Agency officials contacted him and inquired as to progress the district was making in repairing and improving its Lansdowne and Cahokia sewage treatment plants.

The EPA ordered MESD last May to clean, repair and maintain certain parts and equipment of its two sewage treatment facilities after an engineer's report indicated that some parts needed replacement, equipment needed cleaning and maintenance efforts needed to be stepped up.

Last month, EPA officials gave the MESD board 15 days to notify them of measures being taken to comply with the order. Greathouse informed the board at that time that he responded with a letter telling the EPA that MESD consulting engineers Hurst-Rosch of Hillsboro, Ill., were preparing specifications and plans.

On Thursday, Greathouse said he had prepared another letter to EPA Water Division Director Charles Suttin telling him that the board would be ready to solicit bids for the work by the middle of next month.

The EPA, he noted, also has extended the district's time period for complying with the EPA's orders. The original time limit was Oct. 1.

but Greathouse said that has been extended indefinitely. The EPA has asked that the district keep it advised on a monthly basis of the progress.

The EPA has ordered, among other things, that cleaning and repairs be made at both plants, that vegetation be moved around the plants, that a daily maintenance schedule be developed and that both plants be manned half-days during weekends.

Greathouse calls the required repairs "minor," compared to the overhaul the plants were given two years ago. He estimates repairs and maintenance at both plants will cost about $85,000.

The board accepted a bid from Erb Equipment Company of Mitchell for new machinery which can be used as a mower, trimmer or backhoe. Erb submitted the only bid, $51,000, which included a discount offered by the distributors to public entities.

The board also approved buying a hitch for the machinery at a cost of $3,300. The machinery will be delivered in 30 to 45 days.

County Board rejects plan to lower property tax rate

The Madison County Board has rejected a resolution sponsored by Member Harold Byers of Highland to lower tax rates in the county.

Byers' plan called for the county to spend a third of its Federal Revenue Sharing Funds to lower the tax rate, leaving the remaining two-thirds of the funds for capital expenditures.

Only four board members voted in favor of the plan last week. Byers had explained that the county would receive $624,000 in revenue sharing funds. Of that, he said, $200,000 could go toward reducing tax rates.

But Board Member Alan J. Dunstan of Troy objected, noting that the Federal Revenue Sharing Funds have decreased each year. He said that Byers' plan would result in "no real savings to the taxpayer."

On a $60,000 home with an assessed valuation of $20,000, Dunstan argued, a taxpayer would save only $2 in property taxes, if Byers' plan were implemented.

Frank Vlod of Collinsville added, "I'd hate to see some worthwhile projects cast aside to save a few dollars."

Hospice eligible for donations

Hospice of Madison County, a program of home care at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for persons with life-threatening illnesses, is now eligible to participate in the federal government's Combined Federal Campaign (CFC), according to Margaret Duncan, National Hospice Organization representative.

"This year, national eligibility determinations have been eliminated, which means that non-profit health and welfare charities are eligible to receive designations in any local CFC area," said Duncan.

A program through which federal

Several other board members agreed that the revenue sharing funds should be used for capital improvements and other expenses.

In other proceedings last week, Illinois Association of Rehabilitation Facilities Executive Director Dave Stover presented the board with a plaque for its Provision of Employment Opportunities for the Handicapped.

He said the provision resulted in the employment of at least 10 handicapped people. Of those 10 employees, seven were trained and joined private industry, and eight are now off the public aid rolls.

Because of this, he added, Madison County is one of 15 public agency nominees in statewide consideration for an "Employer of the Year" award.

A bid for $36,725 from Lakeside Roofing Company of Granite City was approved by the board. The company will be contracted to repair the roofs of the main garage building and the No. 2 storage shed at the Madison County Highway Maintenance complex. Lakeside submitted the only bid.

employees contribute to charities of their choice through payroll deductions. CFC solicitation occurs in the fall, with contributions deducted on a monthly basis throughout the following year.

"However," said Nina Millett, director of the Hospice, "since Hospice of Madison County did not participate in last year's campaign, our name will not appear as an option on this year's list of agencies."

"Those federal employees who wish to contribute must specify Hospice of Madison County as a program of their choice on their cards."

New health care plan is offered

Granite City residents who belong to Medical Care Group (MCG) of St. Louis will soon be eligible for a number of services, including no out-of-pocket costs for treatment by some Granite City doctors and dentists.

MCG is changing its name to Healthcare Network to better identify these new services.

The Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) will continue to provide traditional patient care in its health centers, but now offers "Smile-Plus" dental coverage, a network of private physicians.

"StayHealthy" preventative care and fitness programs are the first of their kind in the St. Louis area. The "Self-Referral Option" (SRO) allows members to use any doctor they choose.

HealthCare Network is contracting with physicians and dentists in Granite City, Alton and Belleville. They will provide medical care in their private offices to members who previously had to use its health centers.

The private physician option will be available to all members. It provides the same comprehensive coverage the traditional HMO.

Another new service is preventive dental coverage. If members use dentists outside the network, the plan pays for preventive and diagnostic services once every six months.

In the SRO, members can use any physician, including a personal physician. They also have traditional health insurance covering 80 percent of hospital and other charges after meeting a deductible. The option does not cover routine doctor visits, well-baby care or dental benefits.

However, if at any time the member selects health care from an affiliated physician, treatment is given at little or no out-of-pocket cost.

Another service promoting fitness is the "StayHealthy" program. It provides membership discounts at YM-CAs, the Jewish Community Centers Association and Spaulding Racquetball Clubs.

DRIVER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.
Mrs. Dorane F. Conaway, 36, of 2333 Cardinal Ave. suffered multiple injuries this month, when the front of her eastbound auto hit the rear of the parked car of Kim DeGonia, 2304 St. Clair Ave., at the latter address. The motorist was rushed by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

River was reduced by Barton with intent to obtain advantage for Merle Bassett.

Merle Bassett is said to have lied in telling jurors he knew of no gifts to the defense fund from anyone other than his law clients.

JURORS RECOMMENDED Friday that the Board of Review hire a management consultant to study ways to increase efficiency, including use of computer processing and equipment, and logging of out-of-office errands, appraisals and locations.

They suggested establishment of attendance records to assure an eight-hour workday.

Review board members are to be employed on a full-time basis in the future.

BRUCE D. LOCHER, special prosecutor who worked with the grand jury, filed a civil suit Friday seeking to remove Barton from office, on the basis that he had failed to file a required economic interest statement.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer has said he may call a special County Board meeting this month. It is believed Oct. 1 is the deadline to notify Barton whether he is to be reappointed; a notice of intent not to reappoint would be dated at least 90 days before the new calendar year.

Assistant State Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith, legal adviser to the County Board, has indicated it is unlikely Barton will be considered for a fourth term.

Hagnauer, Smith and State's Attorney Don Weber met early this month.

WEBER WAS REMOVED from the current grand jury study of assessments after Chief Criminal Judge Philip J. Rarick ruled that Weber, a longtime Barton opponent, should be replaced by a special prosecutor.

Weber has repeatedly said political or personal concerns were not involved in his long campaign to force Barton from office.

Barton was indicted Nov. 18, 1982, on two counts of bribery and one of conspiracy to commit bribery. He pleaded innocent and said Merle Bassett would represent him.

Jurors at that time alleged he gave $500 to Walter Greathouse, Metro East Sanitary District president and a member of the Madison County Zoning Appeals Board.

THE MONEY WAS SAID to have been conveyed in the hope that a culvert would be approved for installation at a canal, and that a special use permit would be issued to William Nichols, a Nameoki Township land owner who wanted to remove dirt for a landfill cover and to create catfish-baiting ponds.

The request to mine topsoil on a 100-acre Bend Road tract was denied in a 7-0 zoning appeals vote after an on-site hearing June 29, 1982. The County Board affirmed the rejection, 21-1.

A second count of the 1982 indictment said Barton agreed to accept $1,000 from Nichols.

The conspiracy count said Barton agreed with Nichols in the commission of bribery by accepting $1,000 and tendering $500 to Greathouse.

NICHOLS RECEIVED immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony.

Greathouse said he immediately returned what he thought was a political contribution; charges against Greathouse were dismissed July 30.

Barton on Dec. 16, 1982, was indicted for official misconduct in the same Nichols incident. Barton said accounts of the transaction had been distorted, adding that the money was for practical donations and that he had corresponding receipts from campaign treasurers.

ALL THE CHARGES pending at that time against Barton were dismissed May 11, 1983, by Chief Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson, who said there had been prosecutorial misconduct.

Ferguson concluded that Weber prejudiced the case by making a variety of statements to the press and at public gatherings.

But on March 1, 1984, appellate judges at Mount Vernon voted unanimously to reverse Ferguson's decision and to reinstate the charges against Barton.

CLAIMING INNOCENCE, Barton continued to serve in the assessment office. He is appealing the reinstatement to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Barton, Greathouse, the judges and Hagnauer are Democrats. Fink, Nichols, Weber and Smith are Republicans.

Barton has been on vacation. His present attorney, J. William Lucco of Edwardsville, withdrew comment until reading the indictment.

REVIEW BOARD MEMBER Fink said he has done nothing wrong and is hopeful of an early resolution of the case.

When the Bassetts appeared before Judge Rarick on Friday they were represented by Attorney Ben Allen.

Their arraignment is set for Oct. 1 and they are free on recognizance bonds.

CAR DEALERS' DESIRE for lower assessments has been in the news for nearly a year. Many said the economic recession and other factors were making it harder for them to remain competitive.

Barton and the Board of Review announced they were considering reassessing 30 dealers in Madison County, after being asked by a member of the Collinsville auto dealers' group to reduce the valuation of eight dealerships there.

The review board later said it studied all dealers in the county but decided against any reductions, due to insufficient data.

LOCHER'S APPOINTMENT in April followed the March 1984 resignation of Keith Jensen as Weber's chief assistant in the assessment case.

Jensen alleged Weber was trying to manipulate the investigation to coincide with the March primary election, in which Weber was renominated.

A court order removed Weber from the case and named Jensen as special prosecutor. Weber fought that appointment and Locher then was appointed.

IN WEEKEND developments, Jack Frandsen, a Democratic member of the Madison County Board from Alhambra, predicted that either Barton would not be reappointed or the board would decline to approve his reappointment.

It was Frandsen who in March 1983 proposed that Barton be dismissed. The board defeated his motion, 17-11.

Under Illinois law, if Barton is not reappointed, a specific reason must be given for the decision.

A native of Murphysboro, Barton garnered 20 County Board votes on Dec. 20, 1972, for the assessment supervisor position, to seven votes for Lester Klenke of Edwardsville and one vote for Darby Campbell of Alton. Barton replaced the late Dale Hill of Madison.

FIVE CANDIDATES had taken a competitive examination, two later withdrawing. Frandsen was critical of the selection of Barton, saying the board should have chosen from among the top three in the test results.

Barton finished fifth. Frandsen contended, it was ruled that the intent of the law was to choose from among the top three who were available.

Barton was elected by the 24 township assessors in March 1970 as president of the Madison County Assessors Association, succeeding the late Joseph Bergrath of Venice Township.

ELECTED AS ASSESSOR in 1965 and 1969, he has been a local resident 38 years.

Barton attended schools in Valmeyer and then attended Washington University. Affiliated with the Southern Baptist Church, he had done extensive study in the assessing field at universities and colleges in Illinois.

A former auto dealer and insurance and real estate broker, he has held memberships in the American Legion, Moose, Lions, Masons, Scottish Rite and Shrine.

Whoever he established records that provided detailed property descriptions, including photographs of all residences in Granite City.

Sexual abuse charge filed; allege witness contacted

Granite City police arrested Laura E. Boker, 28, of 2404 Illinois Ave. at 12:05 p.m. Friday on warrants alleging two counts of communicating with a witness. She was transferred that evening to the Madison County jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Authorities said the alleged contact with a witness was related to the arrest earlier of Jerry T. Gibson, 30, of the 2800 block of Missouri Avenue.

Charged with aggravated criminal sexual abuse, Gibson appeared before Associate Judge Nicholas Byron and was released on $5,000 cash bail. No plea was accepted at the court hearing in Granite City.

Police began an investigation Sept. 12 of a man who allegedly was involved in the decision of a girl, age 15, to stay overnight at a motel.

Mike Bilbey, attorney for Gibson, asserted his client is innocent.

YOUNGSTERS DAMAGE PROPERTY WITH PAINT

Police went to an address in the 2400 block of Lincoln Avenue last week in response to a report of youths climbing a shed in an apparent effort to get in a residence through an upstairs window.

In the alley behind the house, an officer saw three children, one holding a can of spray paint, who ran from the scene and were caught. It was found that a garage door at the address had been sprayed with black paint.

In the group were two boys, 12 and 10 years old, and a 7-year-old girl. The families of all three were advised of their responsibility for damage and the youngsters were released to either their mothers or a grandmother.

To Don Weber,

Republican candidate for State's Attorney:

You were indicted by a Grand Jury in Madison County on two counts of Official Misconduct which are Class 4 felonies. You said the charges contained in the indictments were not true. Since you have denied the truth of these charges, the public interest demands that you produce the testimony heard by the Grand Jury before it indicted you. Only you can do this. Why don't you do it, Mr. Weber?

vices, elections and workmen's compensation, among other expenses. The budget is unchanged for this account from a year ago. Last year, the district spent $66,339 on board items.

Other major elements of the new education budget include $225,000 for special education, $295,600 for Chapter 1 programs (instructing economically disadvantaged neighborhoods), $395,000 for principals, $443,000 for operating costs and $326,000 for food service.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board received a thank-you note from its new Madison Middle School assistant principal, who began the duties Aug. 27 and was formally hired for the position in a unanimous vote Thursday night.

Board President Paul Bargiel explained that the board had advertised for someone to fill the vacancy at the Middle School but received no response. The board then discussed hiring Spillers during an executive session on personnel.

Because the board was unable to contact Spillers at the time to ascertain whether he was interested in the job, Bargiel added, it instead gave permission to let Spillers start in the position because of the approaching opening of school.

Spillers has been with the school district since 1949, starting as a speech teacher. He later served as principal of Blair School for a number of years and then as a reading specialist.

IN DISPUTE AT WORK, Charles R. Tidwell of Brighton, Ill., went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 7:20 p.m. Saturday, where he told police that during an argument at work, he was grabbed by the throat and pushed through a window at Woodrome Oldsmobile, 1905 Madison Ave.

Tidwell was treated for a laceration to his left shoulder and was advised to contact the detective division today.

In Opener Flyers flog Warriors 53-0

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Fast, physical and very, very strong.

That's the way Granite City High School football coach Ron Yates assessed the East St. Louis football team following Granite City's 53-0 loss to Southwestern Conference opponent Flyers.

For Granite City, it was tough way to open a season. For East St. Louis, it was another lopsided victory — a testament to their team strength and national ranking.

In short, the game — the whole game — belonged to the Flyers.

East St. Louis amassed a total of 390 yards compared to Granite City's 77. The Flyers picked up 264 yards rushing compared to the Warriors 77.

IN THE passing department, the Flyers monopolized, picking up eight completions in 16 attempts for 126 yards. The Warriors completed one of five attempts for no gain.

First downs, were equally as lopsided. The Flyers amassed 12 first downs to Granite City's two. The Warriors were without a first down until the fourth quarter when a flyer penalty provided it.

In few words, it was a mismatch. "They were just too quick for us," lamented Yates after the game.

"For the first half all we could do was run three plays and then punt."

That was exactly the case.

THINGS looked bad for the Warriors from the very beginning. After receiving the opening kick-off, the Warriors' Ron Owens headed up field for what he had hoped would be a big gain or even a kickoff return for a touchdown.

But neither was the case. In fact, what did happen might have been a premonition of what was to come.

Owens carried the ball for a short gain, but more importantly his teammate, Steve Jacobs, while attempting a block, was cut down and Yates fears ligament damage to Jacobs' knee.

Following three running plays, two to Pat Keeling and another to Don Mers, the Warriors' Steve Davis punted the ball out of bounds.

FACED with a first and 10 at Granite City's 45 yard line, the Flyers wasted little time in getting on the scoreboard.

On their first offensive possession of the ball game, the Flyers' J. C. Jones, swept to the right side, managed to get outside and then dashed up the sideline for a 45 yard touchdown. Tyrone Bush's attempt at the point after split the uprights to give the Flyers a 7-0 lead.

The barrage continued through the first half. The Flyers limited the Warriors to a single series, and then when opportunity afforded, converted passes and running plays into big gains and touchdowns.

BY HALFTIME, East St. Louis would score six times and take a 40-0 lead, its last TD coming with just 2:46 remaining in the half as Kerwin Price dashed into the end zone after receiving Ronnie Cameron's pass.

In the second half the Warriors stiffened up. As Yates put it, "it was a matter of pride."

"Our intensity was better the second half," Yates said. "Our hitting was better, maybe I hit a nerve during halftime."

"I told them that all that they had left was self-respect and pride. To draw on that and go out there and play like they had some pride," Yates said.

Granite City did.

ALTHOUGH the Warriors didn't manage to score, they accomplished something, nearly as impressive against the Flyers' explosive offense. They held the Flyers to two touchdowns in the third quarter and kept them out of the end zone all together in the final stanza.

"Granite City's a lot better than they demonstrated here tonight," said Flyers coach Bob Shannon. "We didn't know a thing about them before we came in here. We knew we wanted to throw the ball against them and we did successfully. We felt like we had to take them out of the ball game early and that's what we did."

"IT'S GOOD to play in Granite City and we welcome them back to the Southwestern Conference. We feel like them back in the conference helps to make it one of the best conferences in the state."

Shannon, in his ninth year as coach of the Flyers, has two state championships to his credit, the most recent coming last year. The other championship came in 1979.

The highlight of the game for the Warriors came in the fourth quarter. After the stiffening Warrior defense held the Flyers and forced them into a fourth and eight situation, East St. Louis attempted a field goal with 9:41 left on the game.

THE FIELD goal fell short and the Warrior took possession at their own 20 yard line. Following Keeling's 20 yard gain and then another for short gain, the Warriors went to the air.

Warrior quarterback Ed Goelin, who was filling in for starter Shane Cole, threw to Mike Fenoglio. The pass fell incomplete, but Flyer defensive back Terrence Ward was cited for defensive passing interference, which resulted in Granite City's first first down of the ball game.

Faced with a first and 10 from their own 42 yard line, Owens dashed for 12 yards over midfield to East St. Louis' 46 yard line.

DAVE TATUM advanced the ball to the Flyers' 38 yard line and that's where the Warrior drive sputtered. Faced with a fourth down and three

Proud Of Their Team Warrior fans loyal, dedicated

GRANITE CITY — The final score was a bummer, 53-0.

It was the football Warriors of Granite City High that owned the "W". That, however, didn't deter their faithful. Warrior posters seemed to run up a score of their own in exercising their inalienable rights as fans. Loyalty and dedication.

They certainly swelled Memorial Stadium this Friday night — packed it in a fashion that hasn't been seen in recent years. Probably not since the Warriors were members of the Southwestern Conference and there was no such thing as two high schools in Granite City. Just one. They are called the Warriors.

STANDS were filled and fences that line the field bent from the weight of people watching on A-lines were jammed. The concession stand did a brisk business. You could tell that from the sweaty brows of the people who sold the hot dogs, popcorn and pop, but not the "Ho ho ho" that was listed on the board.

"That's hot chocolate, but we don't have any," explained Larry Voss, president of the Band Parents Association.

This was the Warriors' long-awaited first game of the season, and so what if there was no pep rally at the school during the day. Opening day always is a big deal. It's like playing the pennant-bound Cubs of 1984 the second to last weekend of the season.

IN FACT, the Warriors probably wish they had been playing the Cubs. Anyone except the team they did play. The East St. Louis Flyers.

The East St. Louis Flyers, Defending Class 6A State Champions. Rated the second-best high school football team in America.

The team with the blue helmets, white shirts and blue pants with the orange and blue stripe. And did you see the way they entered the field? The line never seemed to shorten, if that's possible. They kept coming. They were big and they got faster as the line continued.

The East St. Louis Flyers.

"Goosebumps," said cheerleader Sheila Hauptman, who knows more than her share about football. Besides being a cheerleader, she's the sister of former Granite City High football player Joe Hauptman. It was the Flyers who scored the 53 points.

But the score now is 0-0. That's because it is about 45 minutes before the start of the game. Already the doomsayers and "experts" are making their predictions.

"I don't like to be a pessimist, but I say it's going to be a rout tonight," said one middle-aged gentleman standing by the gate.

"Do you think we can get God on our side?" asked a man wearing a red jacket. "God does work miracles."

SUZANNE Davis, a senior at Granite City High, didn't feel the need for any divine help. She was one of the early arrivals, along with cousin Amy Davis, also a senior.

"Yes," she said firmly, when asked if the Warriors would win. "They've been practicing a lot. They've been trying real hard."

For Granite City sophomore Carole Fowler, seeing the Warriors "ground" the Flyers wasn't the only reason she came early.

"I like to watch the guys run around in their tight pants," she said.

Andrea Davis, a freshman at Granite, and sophomore Keri Holikamp, amended Fowler's motion. It's nice to watch the guys, but "We want to watch them win," said Andrea.

"We're hoping," said Keri.

MIDFIELD MOTION. Granite City High School's Scott Blason and an unidentified Alton player vie for control of the ball during Friday's Southwestern Conference soccer game at Granite City High School. Warriors edge Harrison, Alton tie with West's Maroons Thursday

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Gene Baker took a hot shower Saturday afternoon following Saturday's rainsoaked soccer game at the Gauntlet. The coach of the Granite City High soccer team could also afford the luxury of a look back on the nearly two days of mayhem his Warriors had traversed.

There were some bumps, but no breaks along the way.

The Warriors held on for a 3-2 victory over Harrison of Evansville, Ind., Saturday afternoon at Memorial Stadium. This followed a 1-0 triumph over Alton Friday afternoon and a 1-1 overtime tie with Belleville West Thursday.

"Three games in about 36 hours... All in all, two wins, a tie. I would say it was a successful endeavor," said Baker.

MAYBE so for the won-loss column, but that was about as far as the success went. There were many bumps along the way. Each one pointed to a serious failing. The Warriors lack what champions have — what Warriors teams in the past had displayed. The Warriors of 1984 haven't yet demonstrated a "killer instinct."

Baker, an English teacher, describes it more eloquently.

Maturity.

"Get home, get it over with," said Baker. "When you get up, finish the team. Don't let them get back into the game."

"We should be more mature," said Baker. "We're fighting some maturity problems that will change."

MATURITY, as Baker sees it, is performing the "little things." Details such as not taking opposing teams lightly.

"We preach here that anybody can beat you," said Baker. "To be aware of all teams... not just play to the big teams."

The little things. "The little things we have always done in the past," said Baker.

If maturity is a barometer in measuring aggressive play, the Warriors could have passed for Freud in the early stages of Saturday's match.

The Warriors poured in three goals — two by Dennis Gaudreault — almost as quickly as the pouring rain muddled the field.

GAUDREULT skittered a shot past Harrison keeper Tim Glysh less than three minutes into the contest. Nearly eight minutes later, Gaudreault tallied again.

"It was nice to get two goals from Gaudreault," said Baker.

David Baggett completed the scoring less than five minutes later, taking advantage of a miscue by a Harrison defender.

The deluge of goals stunned Harrison coach Jim Hynd, whose squad had come into the match with a 7-1 record and a victory over defending Indiana state champion Memorial.

Hynd called it an "early shock."

The shocking part was there were no more shocks for Harrison.

"We recovered," said Hynd.

WITH BAKER freely substituting for his starters in the second quarter, Harrison turned play around. The pressure paid off when Harrison's Todd Hemmings lofted a shot from several yards out over the head of keeper Steve Branding, who replaced starter Jeb Blasingame. Harrison scored again, this one courtesy of Jack Felsner. The goal came with less than five minutes to play. Harrison never came close to squaring matters.

Baker called himself "superpleased" with the Warriors' victory over previously unbeaten Alton Friday afternoon.

"ALTON has been good for some time," said Baker. Indeed, one of their victories was over Collinsville.

While dominating play in their best effort of the weekend, the Warriors needed a slight boost from the soccer gods to triumph.

The winning goal came with 1:44 left in regulation play. While Jim Chomko was credited with the goal (he was the last Warrior to touch the ball), it was the Redbirds' Larry Stutz who scored. Attempting to clear the ball, Stutz cleared it into his own net.

It was a tough defeat, but Alton coach Larry Montgomery, wasn't swallowing very hard.

"WE MADE a mistake. We dodged a bullet several times. You can look

of the Press-Record

COLUMBIA A second quarter safety provided the Columbia Eagles with all the scoring that they needed Saturday as they hung on to defeat the Madison Trojans 2-0.

The weather played a big part in the contest. A steady downpour hampered the players' footing and was a contributing factor in the two teams' 13 fumbles, nine of them by the Trojans.

Columbia Coach Joe Day felt fortunate to play Madison on the wet turf, saying that the slick conditions kept the Trojans from making the most of their superior team speed.

"The weather was to our advantage," Day said. "We expected to play them on a dry field, but it worked out for us."

MADISON Coach Don Smith agreed that the weather hurt his team. "It took away our speed. It was definitely a factor."

Despite the low score, it was an exciting, hard hitting affair. Opportunity knocked several times for both teams, but neither squad answered the door. Fumbles and untimely penalties kept the offenses of both teams scoreless, while the defenses, when threatened, dug in and held their ground.

After receiving the opening kickoff, Madison, with the help of an offside penalty on Columbia, picked up a first down on their own 39 yard line. But a fumble in the Trojan backfield, a five-yard run by Reggie Young and an incomplete pass forced Madison to punt.

THE FUMBLE: exchanged possessions, and the first quarter ended with Columbia having a second down and seven on the Trojan 46. A good pass rush from Madison's defensive front caused two hurried, incomplete passes from Eagle quarterback Cris Landgraf. Columbia punted and Madison took over at their own 17.

On first down, Madison tailback Darnell Marshall slipped through the Eagle defense for 23 yards and another Trojan first down.

It looked like the Trojans were shifting into high gear, but they ended up in reverse.

A FALSE start penalty on Madison tight end Daryl McCormick brought the ball back five yards to the Trojan 35. A holding penalty sent the Trojans back 15 more yards to their own 20. Reggie Young bulled his way out to the 27 yard line, setting up a second down and 23, but on the next play, quarterback Chandler Terrell was sacked for an eight-yard loss. A clipping penalty and an unsportsmanlike conduct call moved the ball all the way back to the Trojan seven yard line, giving Madison a third down and 6 yards to go for a first down.

Columbia defensive end Scott Moss chased down Marshall in the Eagle endzone to record the game's only points.

LATE IN the second quarter, fumbles by Marshall and Terrell, twice gave Columbia the football inside the Madison 20 yard line, but the Trojan defense was impenetrable.

In the third quarter, Perry McCormick, Wendell Wilson and Steven Petrosky led the charge that gave Columbia minus eight total yards on those two possessions.

Madison's best opportunity to score came with 7:34 left in the third quarter. On third and nine at the Trojan 44, Marshall eluded Columbia tacklers and scampered 47 yards to the Eagle nine yard line. He drove the Trojan offense stalled, and Columbia took over at their own 10.

A PASS from quarterback Lan-

FACEMASK! Columbia's defensive end Eddie Kopp must've really wanted to bring down Madison's Darnell Marshall during Saturday's high school football game in Columbia. Kopp, who managed to bring down Marshall for a loss, was recovered at the 41 by the Trojans. An interception by Columbia's Kelly Coats gave the ball back to the Eagles. Columbia moved the ball down to the Madison 25 on runs by Spurgeon and Landgraf.

MADISON'S Ted Kemp threw Landgraf for a loss back to the 33, but on the next play Spurgeon caught a pass out in the left flats and rambled down to the Trojan seven. Landgraf scrambled around right end for an apparent touchdown, but a clipping penalty nullified the score. A sack by Wilson, Perry McCormick and Earl Walker moved the Eagles back to the Madison 27.

Daryl McCormick recovered a Columbia fumble, but the Trojans couldn't move the ball and punted it back to the Eagles.

With less than four minutes remaining in the game, Columbia fumbled again and Kemp recovered for Madison.

REGGIE Young romped down to the Eagle 27 for a Trojan first down.

penalized for grabbing Marshall's facemask. The Trojans, however, were unable to capitalize on the penalty and eventually lost to the Eagles 2-0.

Win Home Opener Stars come back to whip Lynx

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The rain didn't stop at Granite City Center's soccer field Saturday afternoon. But neither did the GCC Stars.

Down 1-0 at halftime to the Lincoln College Lynx, the Stars poured in four goals in the second half to take a 4-1 home opener victory. The rain drowned the chances for a big crowd — only six fans sat in the bleachers — but GCC players displayed plenty of spirit in their comeback.

"This could be a stepping stone for better times," said GCC coach Larry Petri, whose team improved to 3-2. "It's a good sign when a team battles back. The wins earlier this season were easier because we were never behind."

DESPITE a dominating offense, the Stars were down 1-0 at halftime. GCC had a barrage of 24 shots, compared to just five for Lincoln. But while Lincoln goalkeeper Dennis Miller made save after save, the Lynx got on the board when Mark Sosnowski booted a shot past GCC goalkeeper Jeff Lantz at 41:20 on a play set up by a corner kick.

"I knew the score wasn't going to stay 1-0," said Petri. "This team just wasn't that strong."

"I told the guys at half that we need to work on our pressure. We went out and put more pressure on them when they received the ball. They made the mistakes and we capitalized on them."

RICK MODER, tied the game at 58:37 when he took control of a loose ball and knocked it in the left side of the net. Moder, who earlier in the season had been playing a back, was moved to a midfielder Saturday in what Petri described as a strategy move.

"We used him a lot in moving the ball up (as a back)," said Petri. "At midfield, I thought we'd get more use out of him as a potential scorer and a potential playmaker."

The switch paid off, as Moder also added the last goal of the day at 89:05. Moder scored from in front of the net after receiving a pass from Jim Doyle in the corner.

THE STEADY rain and a strong wind that created chilly conditions couldn't cool the hot tempers between players of both squad. The official had to use his yellow card three times during the contest, while using his red card at 58:44 in the second half against one of Lincoln's top players, Greg Jones, for flagrant elbowing.

The latter call irritated the Lincoln players and fans.

"The players laid down after we lost a man," complained Lincoln coach Dan Freeseimer, whose team dropped to 6-2-1. "I didn't agree with the red card at all. You saw what happened at half with their goalie and what he did."

"They get a yellow card for that. But my man was immediately given a red card. Why? What happened to the yellow card?"

THE PLAY at halftime that ended in a yellow card against goalie Lantz started with a corner kick. Lantz leaped for the kick and in pursuit of the ball hit Lincoln's Mark Richert in the back of the head. The goalie went one step too far when he then pulled Richert down after the save.

Richert appeared dazed after the play. But he stayed in the game during the second half.

Petri said he believed the extra amount of physical contact between the player could be attributed to the wet and slippery conditions. Plus, he explained, "there were some stakes riding this game."

"FIGHTING in our region and the outcome affects the seeding (for the playoffs)," he said. "In this type of game, the bickering is always there on a questionable call. Plus the weather made for a physical game."

The goal that put the Stars ahead for good came at 61:39 on a pass from Doyle to Scott Heck, who boomed one high into the top right corner of the net to put the score at 2-1.

After the assist, Doyle evidently decided it was his turn to score. Tim Dean forwarded the ball to Doyle, in the pass bounced off a Lincoln defender who erroneously watched it go past him. Doyle quickly recovered the pass and with a shot in the lower right side of the goal boosted the score to 3-1 at 79:09.

THE STARS may be learning from their opponents. After having four goals scored against them Tuesday in the second half against Forest Park Community College, the Stars performed the same scoring feat Saturday. Petri enjoyed the reversal.

"I was happy about the way we got back in the game and then wound up bringing it to a semi-final," said Petri. "Notice I didn't say it was a rout or blowout. I know what those days are."

Petri was referring to the Stars 6-1 loss against Lewis and Clark and their 7-0 loss against Forest Park. Petri can only hope those days are gone.

The Stars may have have to do without forward Benny Nolan for awhile, who was injured Saturday. The 1982 Granite City North graduate, who left for medical help during the game, suffered an ankle injury.

GCC will travel to Champaign Thursday and Springfield Friday before taking on Florissant Valley Community College at home Oct. 3.

Monday SPORTS*Cross Country*Girls finish second again; boys cross line in 13th spotBy CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — For the second time in as many weeks, the Granite City Warriors girls' cross country team finished in second place. The girls' squad finished behind the East St. Louis Lincoln Tigerettes Saturday at the Edwardsville Invitational, while the boys' team finished in 13th place.

Lora Wiser and Michelle Shoemaker finished first and second, respectively, for the girls' squad. Wiser finished the two-mile course in seventh place overall with a 12:29 time. Michelle Shoemaker finished close behind in tenth place with a 12:44 time.

THE WARRIORS, who took second place last Saturday at the Mount Vernon Invitational in their first meet of the season, were outpaced by East St. Louis Lincoln. The Tigerettes finished with 27 points for their top five runners, compared to 61 for Granite City.

"I thought we had a chance to win it," admitted Granite City coach Dave McClain. "But we'll get there before the season is over. The girls may not know it yet, but I do."

The majority of the Granite City girls reduced their time from the Mount Vernon race, which was Granite City's first of the year due to the teachers' strike. Shoemaker, for example, dropped three seconds off her time. Melody Whit finished Saturday at 13:18, reducing her time by 37 seconds.

SHELIA Noel followed with a 13:22, dropping 12 seconds off of her Mount Vernon time. Faye Patton, who finished 21st overall, rounded out the top five runners for Granite City. Patton ran the course in 13:42, dropping nine seconds off her time.

Wiser, who ran a 12:19 at Mount Vernon, was one of the few exceptions as she added 10 seconds to her time Saturday.

"She wasn't feeling good," explained McClain. "She was complaining about being nauseous. She might be coming down with a cold—she was awfully tired at the end of the race."

Dawn Young and Lori Pepe completed the seven-runner team, as they finished together with a 13:56 time. The run was a 37-second improvement for Young but a 22-second addition to Pepe's time.

McCLAIN said he was especially impressed with Shoemaker's run, as well as the improvement in the other girls' times. He said the girls have finished better so far this season than the boys because of summer workouts.

"The girls came to the first practice in good shape because they ran during the summer," said McClain. "That wasn't the case with most of the boys. The girls also took the individual workouts (during the strike) more seriously than the boys too."

"Of course, there are some exceptions. But for the most part, the boys have got a lot of work ahead of them."

THE BOYS' team, which finished 11th out of 20 teams at Mount Vernon, collected 296 points to take 13th place Saturday out of 17 teams. A powerful East St. Louis Lincoln team finished first with 50 points, followed by Centralia with 80 and Hazelwood East with 106.

John Varadian led the Warriors with a 17:15 time and a 38th place finish overall. Another junior, Todd Isom, finished in 17:29 for 45th place. Saturday at 13:18, reducing her time by 37 seconds.

THE remaining five Granite City runners were Charlie Porter at 18:12, Keith Bono at 18:23, Bob Shaw at 19:30, Dave DeConia at 19:54 and Brian Meyer at 20:53. Shaw was the other Granite City runner to improve his time, running 26 seconds faster than at Mount Vernon. Mc-Clain said senior Darren Bernais was not at Saturday's meet, presumably because of illness.

Prior to the start of the season, McClain said he expected seniors Bono and Bernais to lead the team. McClain said he's still hoping for such a performance.

"It's early in the season, but they're not yet doing what I want them to do," said McClain, in his initial season as coach of the Warriors. "I may have to look at a couple of juniors to set the example."

McCLAIN said the boys' team has the potential for much improvement, but will find success only through a team effort.

"We had a good practice last week," said McClain. "But we're just not physically there yet. We need a lot more work, a lot more training. If we keep up these practices, we hopefully will be able to peak at the right time."

In the sophomore race, Mike Charbonnier led the team with a 18:55 finish for 25th place. Following close behind were Paul Brandt at 19:02 and Derek Drumtra at 19:04. In the freshmen run, Jeff Meyer finished 22nd with a 12:21 in the two-mile course.

The next competition for the Warriors will come Saturday, when the boys' and girls' squads travel to Springfield for an 11 a.m. invitational.

RESULTS

GRAND TOTALS: Lincoln 37, Granite City 61, O'Fallon 116, Belleville West 129, Belleville East 147, Collinsville 155, Centralia 161, Triad 179, East St. Louis Sr. 230, Mascoutah 246.

BOYS' TEAMS: Lincoln 50, Centralia 80, Hazelwood East 106, Belleville West 164, Alton 165, Cluer North 185, Belleville East 200, Edwardsville 230, Lebanon 243, Charles 245, Springfield S.E. 285, Mascoutah 295, Granite City 296, Triad 353, Civic Memorial 397, Jerseyville 410, Roxana 463.

The two girls were with Chad Lignoul. He's 12 years old and a seventh grader at Coolidge. He summed it all up nicely.

"We're not bad, they're just too good," he said.

HEARING halftime, the "too good" players led by four touchdowns. "It just doesn't look so swell at this point," said senior Greg Ehlers, and his friends Tim Groves, Richard Plantz and Mike Morris.

A strange thing happens, however. The noise from the Warriors' cheering section seems to grow louder. In the din, senior Melissa Pennell, captain of the pom squad, answers a somewhat silly question. Is it harder to cheer when your team is down?

"Of course," she says. "But..."

They just cheer all the harder.

"Whether they win, or whether they get stomped, they're our friends," says Melissa. "And we love 'em."

at the corner kicks and the shots on goal. Although you can't dodge a bullet all the way through the game, we thought we could win the game," he said.

The Redbirds, indeed, did duck several threats. The Warriors blasted 21 shots and forced 11 corner kicks. The Redbirds, in turn, managed just six shots and two corner kicks.

The Warriors' effort decidedly was a sharp upturn from their play against Belleville West Thursday evening.

It was then that all the Warriors' feelings were laid bare. Once again, their play took a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde look.

THE WARRIORS bolted to a 1-0 lead on a goal by Mike Houston. It was a pretty effort. The assist went to Greg Goble. The goal came a little more than 11 minutes into the match. Then "Dr. Hyde" returned.

The Maroons, though peppered by the Warrior shot-makers, held on. In the third quarter, their marksmen took over. They managed five shots, only one less than the Warriors. They had turned the tide. With just 44 seconds left to play in the match, their ship came in. Curt Meckfessel scored to tie the game.

The Maroons played even through two separate five minute overtimes. Although one of the Warriors' nine overtime shots hit the goalpost.

THE WARRIORS also withstood what appeared to be a daring gamble by the Warriors.

On two separate corner kicks, the Warriors sent goalkeeper Jeb Blasigame all the way up the field to the Maroon net. This enabled the Warriors to have an extra attacker on goal. At over 6-6 feet, Blasigame is an inviting target.

The move nearly backfired on the first corner. The Maroons managed to clear the ball, and were able to get a shot from just past midfield on the open goal. The ball was several yards wide. One wondered if it mattered had the ball been on target.

BLASIGAME didn't have to delve far into his vocabulary to come up with a proper way to describe his feelings.

"I'm very disappointed in that the kids are capable of doing so much better than that," he said. "We believe in a mental, a social and a physical effort. I do know if we made any of the three."

After the final leg in the string of weekend matches was over, those questions still remain.

In junior varsity play, the Warriors topped Harrison 4-0. The JV squad also defeated Belleville West 3-1. There was no junior varsity match Friday.

Q: My wife and I are retirees. We've heard quite a bit about direct deposit of government checks, but would like to know a little more. Specifically, how does direct deposit work, and what record would we have of our deposits?

A: Direct deposit is probably the safest, easiest method of depositing Social Security benefit and government retirement checks. Through direct deposit, your monthly check is delivered electronically from the government to your bank, and is credited to your account—either checking or savings as you specify. Further, the government guarantees the funds thus directly deposited. Your regular bank statement will indicate the amount and date of each deposit. (Some passbook accounts, which are not tied directly into the electronic funds transfer system may not provide a regular record, so be sure to check with your bank on this.) Millions of retirees are taking advantage of this system, primarily because of its convenience. For more information on direct deposit, talk with your banker.

JACKIE Linhart, a senior, at Granite City, also held out hope. Then, however, you might say that is her job. She's the captain of the Warriors' cheerleading team, a squad that also includes seniors Zandra Yount, Chris Loyet, Robin York, Stephanie Dill, Kathy Zeigler and Hauptman.

"They've been practicing very hard," said Jackie of the Warrior squad. "They've even been practicing at 6:30 in the morning."

"We haven't been up that early to see them practice," said Jackie with a laugh. "But they've been there."

MIKE Baggett (veteran Irish), said Niall about his first name and Greg Hagen were hoping for more than an upset victory. The two are members of the Warriors' freshmen football team. They hoped to pick up a few pointers.

Now the band, all 180 members, is on the field. They look spectacular in their red and white uniforms, in the way they hold their heads high.

THEY perform the national anthem, and then they play the school song. Is there a better fight song anywhere? Fans lift themselves up, mostly the graduates. Ones with stomachs that now bulge and hairlines that recede. If the present-day students didn't stand for the school song, they will five years from now and certainly to 10.

The Warriors have now made their entrance. They seem invincible in their red and black uniforms. When they broke through the hoop, smashing asunder the paper with the wording "Swat The Flyers," they growled.

FRESHMAN Tracy Perkins and seniors Pam Meyer and Nancy Modica will tell you that. They know because they held the hoop.

It is at these moments when anything seems possible, even beating the second best high school football team in the world (where else do they play football but in America?).

"They're tall, but we're big," boasted Bill Perigo, who graduated from Granite City High last year. "It should be illegal for Chris Luffman (the Warriors offensive tackle and tri-captain) to play football. He's mean."

IN TRUTH, they appeared possessed once the game got underway. The Flyers kicked off and the Warriors return man, Steve Jacobs, fielded the ball. He didn't get far, and worse, he got hurt.

When they got the ball, the Flyers scored. First play even.

Patti Scaturro, a junior at Granite, sucked in a deep breath. "I think we've got to get warmed up," she said.

"We've got a lot of time left," said Granite student, Alicia Melton, a junior.

Venice receives plans for public housing additions

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Engineering specifications and drawings of proposed additions to public housing complexes in Venice have been received by the city. Mayor Tyrone Echols reported at last week's meeting of the Venice City Council.

The drawings were not reviewed by the council last week, but will be available for inspection by aldermen at the comptroller's office.

The mayor suggested inviting a representative of the Madison County Housing Authority to discuss the proposed construction projects with the aldermen and answer questions at the Oct. 2 council meeting.

At the Aug. 22 meeting, some objection to additional low income housing in the community was voiced by Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr., who cited a need for more middle-income housing, which would produce a tax base, rather than "project dwellings."

The Madison County Housing Authority has requested almost $3 million in development grants from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to help pay for median and low income housing in Madison and Venice, the council learned at that time.

The proposed housing construction in Venice is believed to include a $1.7 million project on property adjacent to Venice Homes on South Fourth Street, designated as Venetian Court East.

This project would provide 40 units, 20 of which would be for housing for the elderly and remaining 20 units would be townhouse-style apartments for the non-elderly. There may be some units designed for handicapped persons in this project, Mayor Echols said.

The other new project proposed for Venice is Venetian Court West, which would be constructed across from the Bissell Street Apartments, a private complex, and near the Lee Wright Homes public housing, at a cost of a projected $2.5 million.

That project may include more than 40 one-bedroom homes for the elderly and about 30 family units, Mayor Echols said.

Discussion at the earlier council session also focused on whether the city can specify that persons wishing to live in future housing projects already must be residents of the community and the need for repairs or remodeling at present public housing sites.

Vehicular traffic over the McKinley Toll Bridge in Venice increased somewhat in August with a total of 497,900 vehicles using the bridge for a daily average of 16,061 and an increase of 1,700 above the August 1983 figures, Bridge Manager Tom Fleids reported.

Earlier, Police Chief Farris Smith reported a total of $1,935 was received.

Downtown historical district designated

Granite City aldermen approved a resolution last week, which designates a section of town as the "Downtown Historical District."

The land designated is bordered by Niedringhaus Avenue, Adams Street, 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

The resolution promises that the corporate authorities of Granite City will do "all in their power and authority to encourage the preservation, maintenance, renovation and restoration of the buildings and structures located in the district."

IDOT awards 10 road improvement projects

The Illinois Department of Transportation has awarded road improvement contracts valued at $8.6 million for various projects throughout the state. The total value is for 10 projects on which bids were submitted during the June 29 and Aug. 3 bid lettings.

Local projects include:

— 66 miles of bridge deck overlay removal and replacement on spans 32 through 35 on the westbound lanes of the Interstate 270 bridge over the Mississippi River. The bid was awarded to Keesley and Sons, Inc., of East St. Louis, for $116,590.

— Construction of a storm water pump station and discharge line on West Chain of Rocks Road near the intersection with Thorngate Drive north of Granite City. The bid was awarded to G. McReynolds Corporation of East St. Louis, for $61,221.

— Construction of a storm sewer pump station at Illinois 163 and the Metro-East Sanitary District Canal No. 1, near the south limits of Centerville. The bid was awarded to James M. Clark of St. Louis, Mo., for $46,355.

ed from Circuit Court Clerk Willard V. Portell, representing fines collected during July.

During the same month, there were 68 men and 25 women arrested on a total of 101 charges, including 62 city and state traffic violations and 28 on city and state ordinance violations. Five juveniles were arrested in the same period.

Mayor Echols agreed to ask a representative of South-Western Cable Television, which holds the cable TV franchise for Venice, to explain the status of the project at the next council session.

Some inquiries regarding the Venice underpass recently were made by the firm, indicating the cable TV company is proceeding with preliminary work. City Attorney Lawrence Hartman advised.

Action deferred on new truck ordinance

Granite City aldermen deferred action on an ordinance last week, which would prohibit truck traffic on Missouri Avenue.

The ordinance would not deter semitrailers, trailers or truck tractors from making local deliveries on the road, nor would it deny owners the right to take their vehicles to and from their residences on the road.

Aldermen Jake Varadian requested that action be deferred so that the traffic committee and the aldermen of that ward could discuss plans for a truck route.

ICC to study franchise fees

The Illinois Commerce Commission has ordered an investigation of how Illinois electric, gas, telephone, water and sewer utilities treat franchise fees and taxes imposed by municipalities. It also will examine the providing of utility service to municipalities at free or at reduced rates.

A prehearing conference, at which all the utilities are to be represented, is scheduled for 10 a.m. Oct. 19 in the ICC offices in Springfield.

To be considered during the investigation is the commission's staff proposal — first made in the Commonwealth Edison July 1984 rate case — that any municipal franchise fee charged to a utility be passed on to the utility's customers within that municipality, rather than to its customers generally throughout its service territory.

The ICC staff further recommends that utilities phase out the provisions that their services be offered to municipalities on a free or reduced-rate basis in lieu of the payment of franchise fees to the municipalities.

'Tribute to Israel' at Son-Life Church

Son-Life Church, 1203 Vandalla St. in Collinsville, will be celebrating the Jewish feast of Rosh Hashanna beginning Thursday, Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Matthew Schwartz, a Christian Jew and director of "Intercessors for Israel," will explain this feast also known as the "Blowing of Trumpets." He will be explaining the trumpets and how this feast was fulfilled in Jesus Christ.

Continuing on Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m. and Sunday at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., guest speaker will talk on such subjects as the "Restoration of Tabernacle of David," "Jesus Our Bridegroom," "Current World Events in Prophecy" and more.

Ministering with Schwartz will be Bob Jones. Jones is a modern day prophet. Eight years ago, he prophesied the eruption of a volcano in Iceland. Two weeks ago, this event was in the news, according to Rev. Dennis Amsden.

To round out this four day weekend tribute to Israel will be the performance of the Shekinah Dancers. This is a group of about 30 men, women and children who dance in worship and praise as found in the days of King David when he led all Israel in praising Jehovah and dancing before the Arc of the Covenant.

The Rev. Dennis Amsden, pastor of Son-Life, invites the public to attend and celebrate the tribute to Israel.

Law permits seniors to collect tax benefits early

Governor James R. Thompson recently signed legislation, which will permit senior citizens to collect tax benefits during the month in which they turn 65 years of age.

Prior to this measure becoming law, senior citizens did not become eligible for benefits under the Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act, known as the circuit breaker, until Jan. 1 in the year following their 65th birthday.

"This legislation will ensure that senior citizens can take full and timely advantage of circuit breaker benefits," the governor said. "As soon as eligible senior citizens reach 65, they can begin to claim the tax savings provided by the law."

House Bill 2377 provides that the Department of Revenue prorate the first year of eligibility, so a senior citizen will receive benefits for the number of months remaining in the year following his or her 65th birthday. The measure will take effect immediately but will apply retroactively to all senior citizens who reach 65 in 1984. For example, a senior citizen who turned 65 in February 1984 will be eligible for benefits from March through the remainder of 1984.

In other recent action, Thompson signed legislation which included:

HOUSE BILL 2332. The measure amends the Public Aid Code, expanding eligibility for special and emergency assistance to include childless, pregnant women and families in which the youngest child is between 18 and 20 years of age. The reasons for which special assistance can be provided are also expanded in the legislation and the ceiling on these assistance expenses is raised from $2 million to $3 million. In addition, the measure requires the Department of Public Aid to supervise the administration of food and shelter assistance.

HOUSE BILL 3123. The law amends the Adoption Act to allow the Department of Public Health to establish a registry containing certain health and identification information regarding adoptees and their biological parents. Registration is strictly voluntary for parents or adoptees. The standards and procedures for release of registry information are detailed in the law.

The measure effective immediately, also requires that information on the health, general physical appearance and background of the biological parents to be given to adopting parents before finalization of the adoption. The information must also be made available to any adoptee 10 years of age or older, upon request.

SENATE BILL 1179. The measure creates the Illinois Parentage Act of 1984 and repeals the Paternity Act, establishing the right of each child to the physical, emotional and monetary support of his or her parents, without regard to the parents' marital status. The Parentage Act differs from the Paternity Act in four ways. Under the Parentage Act:

The parent-child relationship can be established by consent of all parties.

The statute of limitations is extended to age 20 for children and for a public agency, until two years after the child no longer receives assistance.

The child, and any other person or agency providing assistance to the child, may initiate paternity proceedings.

All criminal provisions pertaining to parentage are eliminated.

The law is effective July 1, 1985.

HOUSE BILL 2307. The law amends the Illinois Human Rights Act, revising the definition of religion to specifically address "religious observance, practice and belief." It is applicable to both employees and employers unless an employer can demonstrate that compliance with an employee's religious beliefs will impose undue hardship on the employer's business. The measure is effective immediately.

HOUSE BILL 3095. The measure amends the Communicable Disease Act by providing that venereal disease in any minor under 11 years of age must be reported to the Department of Children and Family Service in accordance with the Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act. It is effective immediately.

He pleaded innocent in court and his bond was set at $208. A mittimus was issued and he was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Madison schools to publish weekly letter

Madison Community Unit District 12 has declared that high skill in the uses of English is one of the priorities of the school district. "Competence in the use of language—reading, writing, listening and speaking—is the basis for all other learning," according to Curriculum Director Dolores Folkerts.

"It follows that all teachers of all subjects can help to foster growth in language skills," she added.

To help teachers of kindergarten through the eighth grade teach children how to express themselves well in writing, the district has joined the Mississippi Valley Writing Project from Southern Illinois University.

The Mississippi Valley Writing Project received a grant from the Danforth Foundation to provide a long term in-service program for certain districts. Madison was able to obtain the services of the project.

On the first day of the institute this year, all teachers in kindergarten through eighth grade met with Susan Bascom, "teacher of the year" from Kirkwood North Middle School and consultant for the Mississippi Valley Writing Project. She gave an overview of the teaching of writing.

Mrs. Folkerts said additional in-service programs will be given for teachers in kindergarten through eighth grade during the school year. They will be early release times for students on Tuesday, Oct. 2, and Tuesday, Nov. 6.

On those dates, teachers of grades kindergarten through three will meet with a consultant whose expertise is in teaching primary writing. Grades four through eight will meet with a consultant whose concentration is teaching the elementary child to write.

Additional training will be given during the district's institute on Friday, Feb. 23, 1985. "Being able to express one's self with the written word is a challenge that affects everyone," Mrs. Folkert commented. "The goal of the Madison district is to train all teachers in the writing processes and the techniques of a proven approach to teaching writing."

Archeologists note varied methods

By TOMMYE WALTER

"It's the bone of a fish," the young lady said, carefully working the trowel beneath what looked like an unimpressive lump of damp earth.

"Yes, the spine of a fish," Sidney Denny, professor of anthropology studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, answered.

THOSE WERE NOT the University of Salerno student's exact words; in fact, what she said wasn't even spoken in English — it was Italian. However, the next word was "vertebrae," and she was right. In her hand, she held the tiny bones of a fish that had obviously come from the Mississippi River or small streams below the bluffs.

Standing in a hole in the earth that reached to her thighs, the Italian university senior was among a group of eight students and five faculty members from the University of Salerno in Italy helping to excavate a storage pit on the SUE campus, dating back to 800 to 1000 A.D.

The students and their teachers were on the SUE campus studying American archeological methods. Several years ago, the University of Salerno, SUE and SIU-Carbondale set up an agreement for cooperative research and educational programs between the Italian Institution and the American university.

LAST YEAR, several SUE students and faculty members visited Italy as the initial exchange. While the students were there, they participated in a dig at San Vito near Paestum, a significant archeological site. This year, the Italians came to the Edwardsville campus.

Next year, SUE faculty and students will return to San Vito to work on the excavation there. Thousands of miles separate the bluffs on the SUE campus and the floodplain of the Sele River near Paestum in Italy. Yet there are many differences and commonalities between the two areas and the methods used to determine who once lived there and what they were like.

ONE IMPORTANT thing students learn from their encounters with another culture is that prehistoric, the period before recorded history, doesn't mean the same on the European continent as it does in America for the simple reason that European history has been documented in writing for many more years than the historical events of North America.

"It depends on when writing was discovered and utilized in that culture," William Woods, staff assistant in the SUE department of anthropology, said.

For that reason, language is very important for Europeans preparing for the archeological profession. Classics, the study of Roman History and director of the Archeological Institute at the University of Salerno, has an intellectual background heavy in the classics.

"IN THE UNITED STATES, one must study the sciences — zoology, geology, anthropology, archeology, etc.," Woods said.

Italian and American archeological sites differ somewhat in that stone foundations of Roman History and director of the Archeological Institute at the University of Salerno, has an intellectual background heavy in the classics.

THE SILT LOAM blew up on the bluffs from the Mississippi Valley during the last Ice Age. "Any rock we find up here was brought here," Denny said.

Already evidence of three houses has been found in the area where the students were digging. One house has been identified as a Late Bluff house, dating from 1000 A.D. The other is somewhat newer, dating from the Mississippi period (1000 to 1400 A.D.).

"They are superimposed on one another. When one house was abandoned, they built another house, and when that one was abandoned, still another," Denny said.

THE SUE archeologist pointed out that with so many buildings in the same location, it becomes difficult to tell where one ends and the other begins.

In addition to participating in the excavation of the American Indian site on the Edwardsville campus, the Italian students and their instructors attended lectures on American archeological methodology and visited museums and other archeological sites in Chicago, Springfield and Fort Kaskaskia.

Illinois College enrollment increases

Registration for the fall semester closed at Illinois College this week with the student count reaching 785, the fourth highest enrollment in the last 12 years.

The 785 registration figure includes 762 full-time students and 23 part-time. Some 413 male students are included in the totals and 372 women.

THE 762 FULL-TIME students represent the second highest number of traditional mostly residential, students to enroll at the Hilltop in the last 12 years, according to James M. Downer, vice president for college relations.

This year's enrollment is 23 higher than last year's student count of 762 and 13 students over the 12 year average.

Included in the registration figures are 263 new students. Of this number, 208 are first-year freshmen and 55 are transfer students. "We hit very close to our projections and the college is more than pleased with the enrollment figures achieved by our admissions department," Downer said.

THE HIGHEST enrollment figure posted by Downer in the past few years was 790 — he had placed the registration in the 770 to 790 range, and the addition of three auditing students, actually not counted in the total figure, brings the number to

"We are where we want to be with our student enrollment," Downer said. We seek the 18-22-year-old student, considered traditional, who probably wants to live on campus and take a full liberal arts course of study — night classes, no weekend classes."

The gain in student population at Illinois College was achieved in the face of a nationwide decline in numbers of traditional college age students available. "There were 3.1 million such students in the pool back in 1977," Downer said. "That number has dwindled to 2.6 million this year. Good, traditional private colleges such as ours and up think of Lake Forest, Knox and Monmouth in Illinois as our peers — are able to draw upon only 22 percent of that group from all across the United States. All others attend public universities," he said.

DR. DONALD C. Munding, president of the college, added his congratulations to Admissions Director Marti Clark and her staff. "Our admissions staffers already are visiting high schools in Illinois and neighboring states as we begin to assemble next year's freshman class," he said. "Admissions work is never done and I am very proud of the job Miss Clark and her colleagues — every one of our Illinois College graduates — are doing."

"I am informed that our dormitories and classrooms are filled. I know for sure that I cannot find a place to park on campus."

YESTERDAY'S RELICS FROM THE EARTH. Rosanna Sedon, a senior anthropology student from the University of Salerno, Italy, participates in an archeological dig on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus. She was among a group of Italian students who helped excavate a storage pit hundreds of years old, on the bluff at SUE. The students and their professors were on the SUE campus studying American techniques in archeology. (SUE Photo.)

Financial aid for 1984-85 available

Financial assistance for the 1984-85 academic year is still available for students planning to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to John Jennetten, director of the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

To obtain an Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISSC) Monetary Award or a Pell Grant, students must complete a Federal Student Aid application or an American College Testing Program/Family Financial Statement (FFS).

THE DEADLINE for application for freshmen or transfer students who are attending the university for the first time this fall is Oct. 1. Jennetten said continuing students may also still apply for spring quarter awards.

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission awards are for tuition and fees for Illinois residents. The Pell Grant offers up to $1,900 per year.

Local banks, savings and loans institutions, and credit unions also offer loan programs, including the Illinois Guaranteed Student Loan Programs (GSL) at eight percent interest. Eligible students may borrow up to $2,500 per academic year to help pay college costs.

JENNETTEN SAID students may obtain the loan applications from their lending institutions. Deferments can be obtained for students waiting for their GSI loans. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance by calling 1-692-3280.

Speech and audiology workshop set

The Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a workshop Oct. 13 on Noncategorical language assessment and intervention.

Sponsored by the department of speech, pathology and audiology, the workshop is scheduled in the conference area of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Registration is $20. Deadline for registration is Oct. 8.

Lynn S. Bliss, Wayne State University, will be the presenter. The workshop will be devoted to procedures for the assessment and remediation of language-impaired children based on behavioral characteristics instead of traditional classifications.

Participants will be introduced to techniques that will enable them to devise assessment programs involving non-standardized instruments, such as language sample analyses and the use of innovative tasks. They will become familiar with behavioral symptoms exhibited by children in six areas of functioning and ways of using that knowledge to create intervention programs.

THE LAW AM I DO

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The purpose of a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy, which is also known as a straight bankruptcy, is to discharge a person's debts and give the individual a fresh start in life. Persons considering Bankruptcy for the first time frequently have a variety of questions concerning Bankruptcy procedure. This article will attempt to spell out what takes place in Bankruptcy proceedings in an effort to make individuals aware of the relative simplicity of the process.

A Chapter 7 Bankruptcy does not officially begin until the debtor's Bankruptcy petition has been filed with the Bankruptcy Court. This petition is basically a statement by the debtor of his current financial condition. It contains personal information such as the occupation, income, bank accounts and tax refunds of the debtor as well as a list of all creditors to whom the debtor owes money. From the time the debtor files his Bankruptcy petition, all creditors must immediately stop collection efforts against the debtor which means that they cannot call him, write to him, sue him, or garnish his wages. All pending lawsuits against the individual are stopped in their tracks by the filing of the Bankruptcy petition.

The next step is the first meeting of creditors which generally takes place 30 to 45 days after the debtor's petition has been filed. The Court sends notice to the debtor of the exact time and date of this meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to give the creditors an opportunity to question the debtor. At the first meeting, the bankrupt is questioned briefly concerning his current income and expenses, his dependents, and whether or not he has previously filed for Bankruptcy. It is not unusual for this first meeting to take only 10 to 15 minutes of the debtor's time once his case has been called before the Court.

The first meeting is the first of two required Court appearances by the Chapter 7 debtor. Approximately 30 to 45 days after the first meeting of creditors, the bankrupt is required to make a second Court appearance at a discharge hearing. At this hearing the debtor is called before the Bankruptcy Judge and advised as to what it means to be discharged in Bankruptcy. The Court will then decide at the discharge hearing whether or not the bankrupt will be allowed to sign back on, or reaffirm, with any of his creditors.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

RE: Service reorganization in Granite City, Illinois to be implemented on November 26, 1984, or as soon as possible thereafter.

1. Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the State Development and the Madison County Transit District on October 17, 1984 at:

Madison County Township Building
2000 Delmar
Auditorium
Granite City,
Illinois 62040
Wednesday,
October 17, 1984
7:00 P.M.

The hearing is scheduled to begin at 7:00 P.M. and is for the purpose of considering adjustments in bus service proposed for implementation in November, 1984.

A. Description of Service Change

(1) The proposed changes to the #53 West Granite-Stockyards route are: Route is rerouted through downtown Granite City and provide new service to residential neighborhoods in the West Granite area, and elimination of a low ridership segment in the City of Brooklyn.

(2) The proposed changes to the #303 Ponton Express are: Begin service at Granite City Center in north Granite City. Provide new service to the residential neighborhoods in the Maryville Road. Extend service into the City of Madison to serve additional residential areas. Develop park-n-ride facilities at Granite City Center and in the City of Venice to serve the route.

(3) Recommended changes to the #530 McKinley Bridge is to remove three low ridership deviations on the route. Reroute the buses in downtown St. Louis along 8th and Market Streets to provide greater penetration into the office and shopping areas.

(4) The recommended change for the East Granite is to divide the route into two end-to-end routes, with extended service into new residential and shopping areas. The North Granite Shuttle will provide all-day service between downtown Granite City and Nameoki Village Shopping Center via Worthen Park. This route will basically follow the old East Granite route, but new service will be provided to the residential areas between Nameoki and Maryville Roads.

(5) The proposed reorganization of service in Granite City will cost an estimated increase in operating expenses of $340,000, bringing the total cost of transit service in Granite City to approximately $1,262,000. Madison County Transit District will pay Bi-State an amount equal to the actual operating expenses.

(6) Bi-State's service area includes St. Louis City, Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis Counties in Missouri, and Madison, St. Clair and Monroe Counties in Illinois.

(7) The projected transit operating budget for FY 1985 is $88,440,000. Of this amount, $11,688,000 will be provided by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, $7,047,000 will be provided by the Illinois Department of Transportation, $3,254,000 will be provided by miscellaneous income, $21,813 will be provided by passenger revenue and $44,038,000 will be provided by local funding.

B. Relocation

No persons, families, or businesses will be displaced by this project.

C. Environment

This project will not have a significant environmental impact upon the urban/service area.

D. Elderly and Handicapped

The design of the project contained herein will take into consideration the special needs of the elderly and handicapped.

Six-dog night
Australia's aboriginals sometimes capture dingoes, wild dogs, when they are pups and train them for hunting. Dingoes once served as living blankets; a chilly night was a "three-dog night" and a really cold one was a "six-dog night."

The "four-eyed fish," the Anableps, has divided eyes that enable it to see under-water and above the surface at the same time.
